DRBA ACTIVITIES

BRIDGING BOUNDARIES, BUILDING COMMUNITY

The Dan River Basin comprises about one-third of the Roanoke River Watershed and drains portions of six Virginia and nine North Carolina counties. River basin activities help to bridge boundaries between states, counties, agencies and people. Not only do the rivers bring people together, but they continue to provide a cross-border economic base through nature and heritage tourism. The role our rivers have played throughout history may have changed, but the rivers continue to bring life to our region.

PLAY

- Outings on rivers and trails
- Access to rivers for fishing and floating
- Parks and trails for walking and riding

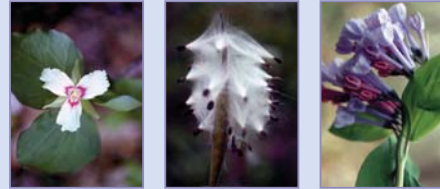

LEARN

- Educational programs and displays
- Stream monitoring & Trout-in-the-Classroom
- Historical and archaeological research

CARE

- River stewardship & fisheries protection
- Regional nature and heritage tourism
- Historic preservation

All of these activities are open for member participation, and we invite everyone to join us. Together we will protect, preserve, promote, and enjoy the Basin's waters and the region's culture.

TO PRESERVE AND PROMOTE THE NATURAL AND CULTURAL RESOURCES OF THE DAN RIVER BASIN THROUGH STEWARDSHIP, RECREATION AND EDUCATION

—The DRBA Mission Statement

The DAN RIVER BASIN

Let's go. If you travel with eyes, ears...heart and soul open, you will begin to understand the unity-in-diversity of the river's reach from plateau to gorge to valley to piedmont to plain; its rock-plant-animal-Native American-colonist continuum, its spirit-behind-the-physical reality.
